THE SCHOOL OF LAW

GENERAL STATEMENT

History.—The law school which developed into the School of Law of the University was founded in 1843 at Chapel Hill as a private school by William H. Battle, then a judge of the Superior Court, later a justice of the Supreme Court of the state. In 1845 Judge Battle was made professor of law in the University, and it was provided that the degree of Bachelor of Laws should be conferred on those completing the prescribed two-year course. From the records of the University, however, it seems that few degrees were actually conferred. For a long time the school maintained a certain independence of the University. The professor of law received no salary, though he enjoyed the fees from his classes, and the students were not entirely subject to the discipline of the University.

This was the position of the school from its formation until 1899, a period which covered the professorship of Judge Battle, who retired in 1879; two years when the law classes were conducted by Kemp P. Battle, then president of the University; and the professorship of John Manning, elected 1881, died 1899. In 1899 the school was completely incorporated into the University, with the late James C. MacRae, previously a justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, as the first dean of the School of Law.

Approved by the American Bar Association.—In 1921 the American Bar Association adopted a resolution reading in part as follows:

- (1) The American Bar Association is of the opinion that every candidate for admission to the bar should give evidence of graduation from a law school complying with the following standards:
 - (a) It shall require as a condition of admission at least two years of study in a college.

- (b) It shall require its students to pursue a course of three years' duration if they devote substantially all of their working time to their studies, and a longer course, equivalent in the number of working hours, if they devote only part of their working time to their studies.
- (c) It shall provide an adequate library available for the use of the students.
- (d) It shall have among its teachers a sufficient number giving their entire time to the school to insure actual personal acquaintance and influence with the whole student body.

The University of North Carolina School of Law has complied with these requirements and is classified by the American Bar Association as an "approved law school."

Member of the Association of American Law Schools.—The Law School is a member of the Association of American Law Schools, an association composed of the leading law schools in the United States. The object of this association is to improve legal education in America, and member schools are required to maintain certain high standards relating to entrance requirements, faculty, library, and curriculum.

Registered Under New York Regents' Rules.—A carefully compiled list of approved law schools, whose credits are acceptable as evidence of due preparation for the New York Bar Examinations, is published by the University of the State of New York. The School of Law is accredited in this list for the full three years' work.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

Regular Students

The matter of admission to the School of Law, as to all the other schools and colleges of the University, is arranged through the Dean of Admissions of the University.

The Dean of Admissions passes upon all applications for admission, and all inquiries as to eligibility to enter should be addressed to him. Those who intend to enter must furnish to him (a) a certificate of successful vaccination against smallpox; (b) a certificate showing the completion of a four years' high school course of fifteen units and, after September 1, 1932, the completion of not less than three years of college work, which must be approved as satisfactory. These certificates should be sent by mail to the Dean of Admissions at least two weeks before registration day, if possible.

Beginning in September, 1932, three years of college work will be required for admission to the School of Law. That change, however, will not affect those who shall have entered any department of the University of North Carolina prior to January 1, 1932, and who shall, in addition, have completed within a reasonable time the requirements for admission to the School of Law in force on June 1, 1931.

The academic requirements for admission to the School of Law may be satisfied by:

(1) An academic degree from the University of North Carolina or any other standard college or university approved by the Dean of Admissions.

(2) Three years of academic work prescribed in the "Combined Course in Arts and Law" or in "Commerce and Law" as described below.

(3) The first three years complete of the regular work prescribed for a degree (a) in the College of Liberal Arts, the School of Commerce, or the School of Education in this University or (b) in a similar curriculum in some other standard college or university.

Special Students

A limited number of special students, not candidates for a degree, with less than the required three years of academic training may be admitted. They must be at least twenty-three years of age, and must furnish evidence to satisfy the law faculty that their experience and training have specially equipped them to engage successfully in the study of law despite the lack of the required college credits. The number of such special students admitted each year may not exceed ten per cent of the average number of students admitted by the school as beginning regular law students during the two preceding years. Applications for admission to the Summer School as special students will be acted upon on May 15, for admission in the regular session on September 1, each year.

Admission to Advanced Standing

A student from another school of law, in which the requirements for admission are at least as high as in this school, may be admitted to advanced standing for the degree of LL.B. As a rule no more than one year's work will be so credited without residence, but with the consent of the law faculty two years' work may be credited in exceptional cases, provided the last year of work for the law degree is done in residence. A student seeking admission to advanced standing must present satisfactory evidence that the work taken in another school is substantially equivalent to that given in the corresponding year here, both in the character of the work covered and in the amount of time devoted to each subject.

Expenses

	Residents of N. C.	Non-Residents of N. C.
Tuition for fall and spring terms, each.....	$50.00	$ 87.50
*Matriculation fee, each term.....	21.75	21.75

Student union fee, each term.....	1.50	1.50
	<hr/>	<hr/>
Total for each term.....	$91.50	$129.00

Summer Law School fees for 1932 (exclusive of laundry deposit) are: residents, $35.00 each term or $65.00 for both terms; non-residents, $50.00 each term or $90.00 for both terms.

Books

Books for law students, bought new, will average about $50.00 a year. A saving below this figure can be made by taking advantage of the secondhand market.

Board

Excellent board is furnished at Swain Hall for $20.00 a month. A few students can earn their board by waiting on the tables.

* This includes the gymnasium fee, the library fee, the fee for attendance of the university physician, and the fee for debates.

Board without room can be obtained in the town for $22.50 to $35.00 a month.

Dormitory Accommodations

The Carr Building, adjacent to Manning Hall, has been remodeled and reserved as a dormitory for law students exclusively. It will accommodate sixty-two students. All rooms in the dormitories are completely furnished. Students will, however, provide their own pillows, bed linen (for single beds), and towels.

Room rent for each occupant of a double room is $50.00 for the fall semester and $40.00 for the spring semester; for each occupant of a suite for three, $42.50 for the fall semester and $34.00 for the spring semester.

Applications for rooms in dormitories should be made before September 1 to the Cashier, Business Manager's Office, University of North Carolina, and should be accompanied by a check for $5.00 as a deposit. The application should also specify that space in the Carr Building is desired. The building is also available to students in the Summer Law School.

DIVISION OF ACADEMIC YEAR: DATES

Work in the School is divided into two semesters instead of into three quarters. The first semester begins at the same time as the fall quarter of the College of Liberal Arts, and ends on the last Saturday in January. The second semester begins on Monday after the last Saturday in January, and ends at the same time as the third quarter of the College of Liberal Arts.

In 1932-1933, registration day for the first semester is Thursday, September 22; for the second semester, Monday, January 30. For late registration in either semester an additional fee of $5.00 is charged.

Beginning students may enter the School in the summer session, or at the opening of the first semester in the fall. They may not enter at the second semester.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL

The summer session of the School of Law offers opportunities for students to supplement the work of the regular year by additional courses, some of which are not otherwise available, or to shorten the period of study for the law degree to two regular years and three summer sessions. The summer session is divided into two terms of five and one-half weeks each. Separate credit may usually be obtained for the work of each term. Attendance throughout the entire summer session enables the successful student to obtain credit equivalent to one-third of a regular year's work.

A full curriculum is provided for both beginning and advanced students. The faculty always includes as visiting professors a number of distinguished law teachers from other universities. The program for 1932 follows:

FIRST TERM, JUNE 13 TO JULY 20	SECOND TERM, JULY 21 TO AUGUST 27
LABOR LAW. James M. Landis , Professor of Law, Harvard Law School.	FEDERAL PROCEDURE. Julian S. Waterman , Dean of the School of Law, University of Arkansas.
TAXATION. Henry Rottschaefer , Professor of Law, University of Minnesota.	TRUSTS. Bryant Smith , Profes- sor of Law, University of Texas.
DOMESTIC RELATIONS. F. W. Hanft , Associate Professor of Law, University of North Caro- lina.	CRIMINAL LAW. Albert Coates , Professor of Law, University of North Carolina.
REAL PROPERTY. F. B. McCall , Associate Professor of Law, Uni- versity of North Carolina.	PERSONAL PROPERTY. R. H. Wettach , Professor of Law, Uni- versity of North Carolina.

An announcement of the program for the 1933 summer session will be published in the spring of that year.

THE LAW BUILDING

The Law School occupies Manning Hall, named for John Manning, from 1881 to 1899 a distinguished professor in the School. The building was erected in 1923 and, besides being modern and commodious, is particularly notable for beauty of design.

THE LAW LIBRARY

The library has more than 24,000 well selected volumes on its shelves. These include the reports of the courts of last resort of all the states, either in official volumes or the National Reporter System, and also the United States Supreme Court Reports, The Federal Reporter, The New York Supplement, Illinois Appellate Reports, Ohio Appellate Reports, The English Reports Reprint, The Law Reports (English), The Law Journal Reports, The Law Times Reports, The Times Law Reports, The Dominion Law Reports, the codified laws of each state in the union, the federal and English statutes, and a comprehensive selection of digests, encyclopedias, annotated reports, textbooks, and law journals. It contains, among other material of historical legal interest, the law libraries of Chief Justice Richmond M. Pearson, Chief Justice William A. Hoke, and Judge Charles M. Cooke. The law library was substantially augmented in 1928 by a gift from a former student of the School of $10,000, called the Lucius Polk McGehee Memorial Fund, which was expended for the purchase of books for the law library.

THE NORTH CAROLINA LAW REVIEW

The North Carolina Law Review, issued quarterly, is published by the Law School. It is devoted to the discussion of general and local legal problems and new cases, especially those of interest to North Carolina lawyers. The notes on recent cases are prepared by the student editors, in consultation with faculty advisers. Selection of the student editors is made by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, and membership on the editorial board is the highest scholastic honor attainable by a law student before the graduating year.

The Hill Law Review Prize, established by George Watts Hill, Esq., of the Durham Bar, is an award of fifty dollars to the student editor who makes the best total contribution to the Law Review during the year. It was won in 1932 by Mr. Edwin Marvin Perkins.

FACULTY RESEARCH ASSISTANTS

The faculty selects annually a number of assistants from the student body who conduct special research under the direction of the faculty. These students are chosen for outstanding proficiency in individual research. Each receives as compensation the sum of $225.00 a year.

The following students will serve as research assistants during the year 1932-1933: W. J. Adams, Jr., E. M. Perkins, and F. P. Spruill.

THE ORDER OF THE COIF

In twenty-eight of the leading law schools of this country, conforming to very high standards, chapters have been established of the honorary law school society of the Order of the Coif. Membership is awarded each year to those students of the senior class who throughout their law school career have attained a standing among the highest ten per cent of their class. In 1932 the following were elected: H. B. Campbell, W. T. Covington, Naomi Alexander, and Travis Brown.

WINSTON-SALEM FOUNDATION AWARD

The Winston-Salem Foundation Award, established in 1932, is a loan fund yielding $250.00 annually. It will be awarded each year to that student who, in the judgment of the law faculty, gives greatest promise in the field of individual research. The first recipient is Mr. Edwin Marvin Perkins of the class of 1933.

STUDENTS FROM OTHER STATES

While greater emphasis is placed upon North Carolina decisions and statutes than those of any other states, the legal doctrines are studied as part of the Anglo-American common law system and the case-books used are selections of cases taken from all the American and English jurisdictions. Students from other states are encouraged to investigate the decisions and statutes of their own states in regard to the questions discussed, and the law library provides the materials necessary for such investigation. The law course as a whole is designed to prepare the student in the fundamentals of the common law in such a manner as to fit him for practice in any state.

SUBJECTS OF INSTRUCTION

All subjects in the first year are prescribed. Those in the second and third year are elective, but second-year students may not elect third-year subjects except by special permission of the dean.

FIRST YEAR

AGENCY

Mr. Breckenridge

Distinction between agency and other legal relationships. Express, implied, and apparent authority of agent; liability of disclosed and undisclosed principal to third party in contract and in tort; liability of agent to third party and of third party to principal and agent; ratification of unauthorized acts; termination of agency. Mr. Hanft

What occupations are public callings at common law and under statutes; duty to supply adequate non-discriminatory service at reasonable rates; right to discontinue service; regulation of rates; commissions.

Three hours, first semester.

Smith and Dowling's Cases on Public Utilities.

DEGREES

The Degree of LL.B.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws is conferred upon a regular student who has studied law for a period of at least three academic years, and has passed satisfactory examinations on all required subjects and enough elective subjects to make up an aggregate of seventy-eight semester hours. Two long sessions and three summer sessions of at least ten weeks each are regarded as a compliance with the residence requirement.

The Degree of J.D

The degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.) will be conferred upon students who comply with all the following conditions:

1. Complete the work requisite for the A.B. degree or its equivalent before entrance upon the work of the School of Law.
2. Study law for a period of at least three academic years.
3. Obtain an average grade of B on enough subjects to complete the requirements for the LL.B. degree.
4. Prepare and have accepted for publication in The Law Review an article of at least ten pages, or case notes which in the aggregate shall be at least eight pages in length.

The Degree With Honors

The degree with honors will be conferred, on recommendation of the faculty, upon students selected from the highest one-tenth of the graduating class who have made a distinguished record. In 1931 the recipient was James H. Chadbourn; in 1932 it was Hugh Brown Campbell.

The Degrees of A.B. and LL.B.

The University offers a combined course in the College of Liberal Arts and in the School of Law upon completion of which students may receive the two degrees of A.B. and LL.B. in six years instead of the seven years required for the two degrees in the regular course.

Upon completing the courses in the College of Liberal Arts outlined below (before matriculation in the Law School) and the first year of law, students may receive the degree of A.B.; upon the completion of the third year in the Law School, the degree of LL.B.

Prescribed courses in the College of Liberal Arts for the two degrees of A.B. and LL.B.:

The foregoing academic curriculum requires at least three courses in each of two foreign languages. Instead of this requirement, the student is allowed the option of completing five courses in one such foreign language. In case this option is taken, it is advisable that the courses in science shown in the second year be taken in the first year, and that Economics 1-2 be shifted similarly from the third to the second year. This arrangement necessitates also some obvious changes in the electives.

The School of Law suggests the courses named below as suitable electives in this course, but choice is not restricted to these. English 52, 53, 54; Psychology 138 (Legal Psychology), 140; History 161, 162; Economics 81, 82, 195; Sociology 42, 192.

The A.B. degree, on this basis, is conferred at the end of the fourth year (first year in law), provided the student has satisfactorily passed all the work of the first year of law.

The Degrees of S.B. in Commerce and LL.B.

The University offers a combined course which leads to the degree of S.B. in Commerce at the end of four years, and LL.B. at the end of six years.

The first three years of this combined course are in the School of Commerce and are devoted to the subjects outlined below. The last three years are in the School of Law and are devoted to the courses prescribed for the LL.B. degree.

The degree of S.B. in Commerce, on this basis, is conferred at the end of the fourth year (first year in law) provided the student has satisfactorily passed all the work of the first year in law.

Prescribed courses in the School of Commerce are as follows:

* Latin, 1, 2, 11, 22 are to be taken by students who have presented only two units for entrance. In case the student is required to pursue only Latin 11, 22 or 2, 11, 22, the number of electives is increased to make up the difference. In every case 27 courses of college grade must be completed.

† The School of Law recommends that the optional course chosen be Advanced Composition, Eng. 52.

‡ The School of Law recommends that the courses in history and government be courses in English and American history or government.

EXAMINATIONS, GRADES, ELIMINATION, ATTENDANCE

Examinations. Preliminary hour examinations will be held in each course in November. At the end of the first semester, hour examinations will be given in all courses running through the year. Individual research assignments may be substituted for preliminary examinations. Final examinations are held at the end of the first semester in the subjects then completed, and at the close of the year in all other subjects.

Grades. The grading of students will be indicated by the letter A (80 and above), B (75-79), C (67-74), D (60-66), F (below 60), representing respectively excellent, good, satisfactory, poor, and failed. A student receiving the grade of F (failed) in any subject will be required to repeat the course.

Full credit may not be secured for more than ten semester hours of D grade work in one long session, nor for D grade work in more than one-half the hours taken in a summer session. D grade work in excess of these amounts will be given only one-half the usual credits.

* The total requirement in modern language is three courses of collegiate grade based upon two units completed in high school or the equivalent in the elementary courses taken here.

† If History 167 is selected, it may not be taken until the junior year. In this case Psychology 21-22 or Education 31 and 71 should be taken in the sophomore year.

Elimination of Students. A student must obtain a grade of D or better in at least two-thirds of the total number of semester hours for which he registers, and any student who fails to do so shall thereby automatically be excluded from further work in the School. Likewise, the law faculty may drop from the School at any time any student who in their judgment is not making sufficient progress to warrant his continuing in the School.

Any instructor, with the concurrence of the dean, may drop a student from a course at any time for unsatisfactory work, poor attendance, or other good cause.

NUMBER OF HOURS OF WORK REQUIRED AND PERMITTED

The normal amount of work is twelve to fourteen class hours per week. Not more than fifteen hours of law work may be taken nor, if academic work is being taken at the same time, may more than ten hours of law be taken with one academic course.

No student taking fewer than ten hours weekly will be considered as studying law within the rule of the Supreme Court, which requires of applicants for license to practice in North Carolina two years' study of law as a necessary preliminary.

ADDITIONAL OPPORTUNITIES OF UNIVERSITY LIFE

Students in the Law School may be admitted to the courses given in the other departments and schools of the University, subject to the rules stated as to the number of hours which a student may take, and subject to the approval of the dean of the School of Law. A student taking such a course must satisfy the entrance requirements for the course selected.

As students of the University, they enjoy all the privileges of the University library, the University gymnasium, and the organizations of the University generally—literary, social, and athletic.
